The Big Garden Bird Watch

We will be taking part in the Big Garden Bird today watch by counting all the birds that land in the nursery garden. You can do the same at home. Visit the website for more information if you want to take part.

Download the 50 things app and have a go at #45 Wonderful Waiting Game. Watching and waiting for birds to land in the garden is a perfect opportunity for lots of chatting with your child. You can extend their vocabulary by naming objects you can see. Make the most of the time you have to talk to your child and bring their attention to the world around them.
